SPONSOR TIER LIST EXPLAINED

Platinum Sponsorship ($3000+) :

Platinum sponsors receive the highest level of exposure and engagement, with their logo on the event website, materials, and track-specific content. This tier includes a booth, judging opportunities, a speaking role at the opening event, and mentorship opportunities with participants. Platinum sponsors also have their logo on T-shirts, event merchandise, and slide templates. Additionally, they gain customized track benefits, tailored to align with specific event themes, and receive a social media shoutout.

Gold Sponsorship ($2000+):

Gold sponsors enjoy extensive visibility with their logo on the website, materials, and track content. They get a booth, judging opportunities, a speaking role, and mentorship access. Gold sponsors also benefit from logo placement on T-shirts and merchandise, as well as a social media shoutout.

Silver Sponsorship ($1000+):

Silver sponsors receive logo placement on the website and event materials, a booth at the event, and mentorship opportunities with participants. They also get their logo on T-shirts and merchandise, providing moderate brand visibility.

Bronze Sponsorship ($500+):

Bronze sponsors gain essential visibility, with their logo on the event website and materials, plus a social media shoutout. This tier is ideal for companies looking to support the hackathon with a basic presence.

SPONSOR INVOLVEMENT IN TRACKS BY TIER

Our sponsorship tiers allow companies to support these tracks in varying capacities:

Platinum Sponsors have exclusive access to select one or more tracks to support directly. They can participate in judging projects, host track-specific workshops, and mentor teams throughout the hackathon.

Gold Sponsors can also participate as judges in their chosen track(s) and offer mentorship to students, fostering close engagement with the participants.

Silver Sponsors are encouraged to provide mentors for teams working on relevant tracks, offering guidance and advice on specific projects.

Bronze Sponsors receive branding opportunities within track areas and are welcome to engage with students during networking sessions.

Sponsors will receive branding opportunities within their chosen track(s), with their logos featured prominently on related materials and digital platforms. In addition, sponsors involved in track judging will gain valuable insights into the creative solutions developed during RocketHacks, further enhancing their visibility and connection with participants.
